City, contractors negotiate costs

By JEFF BROWN

BEILLE GLADE - Discussions between the apparent low bidders in the water treatment plant project and the firm handling the engineering and designing of the project for the city may bring the cost of the project into line with the city's available funds for it. City Manager Rolfe Wagner told the City Commission Monday, September 27, Wagnet told the City Commission states, September 27.

Bids on the project were opened Thursday, September 23, and the low bidders came in $458,854 abové anticipated costs.

Sunset Construction Company out of Fort Lauderdale bid $498,054 on the raw water and booster pump station. The city and Briley, Wild and Associates, the engineering firm handiling the account for the city, had anticipiated a cost of $460,000. Bids on that phase of the project ranged up to $804,000. W.E.D. Contractors out of Winter Haven submitted the low bid of $2,668,800 on the water plant improvements part of the project. The city was expecting that phase to cost about $2,250,000. According to City Manager Rolfe Wagner and Mayor Thomas L. Altman, the engineers are examining the bids and negotiating with the low bidders in an attempt to bring the costs into line with available revenues.

"It is beginning to look like . . . they're beginning to see some hope that they can bring the project in within the city's available funds." said

The city is funding the project through a bond issue, and Altman said there is a remote possibility that when the city issues the balance of the bonds for the sewant plant project it will include funding to make up the will be some scaling back in the project to meet they can be some scaling back in the project to meet the projected costs.

One area that might be considered for elimination is the lime reclamation project, which could be removed from the project and built at a later date to save some money, he said.

"Contractors sometimes have ideas on cutting costs," he added.

Another area where the city may make up the some of the money is from the renewal and replacement portion of the water and sewage treatment plant budget, although that wouldn't be enough, said Altman.

He estimated that the city could only recover about $100,000 of the required funds by that route.

"I think it would be a mistake to just take it (the high bids) and say its a disaster," said Wagmer.

Commission gives budget ok

By JEFF BROWN
BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade City Commission gave final approval to the city's 1982-1983 budget and millage tax rate, but somis problems have to be solved before it can be said the budgeting process is complete.

No citizens attended a hearing on the millage rate and budget Monday night, September 27. After the hearing, the city commission gave final approval to the $4.9 million budget, and set all approval to the $4.9 million budget, and set all approval to the $4.9 million budget, and set the millage rate at $4.85 per $1.000 of assessed value on real and personal property.

Mayor Thomas L. Altman said Monday night that the commission was expecting a $224,663 federal revenue sharing allocation when it was working on balancing the budget earlier this year.

After work on the budget was completed, the city was informed that the allocation would be decreased to $180,061.

That problem has to be resolved before the city can consider allocating more funds for certain projects, Altman told a representative of the Community Action Council. Linda Evans, a representative of the council, was present at the city commission meeting later that night, asking for an increase in the city's donation to the council.

The city had budgeted $1,000 for the CAC.
"Only a thousand dollars wouldn't help us too

Altman told Evans that many coastal cities are

In it's budgeting process, the CAC had anticipated a $20,000 donation from Belle Glade.
South Bay's share was anticipated to be $15,000,

Evans mentioned transportation as one area that eh city could be of help to the council. In the past the city had provided services to organizations, such as the CAC, which receive matching funds from other agencies, and that organization would receive credit towards matching funds, said Altman. Evans said she would approach the city commission at a later date with an alternate proposal. The commission held a regular meeting after the public hearing.

One option they are interested in is continuing its use as a bowling alley with a lounge. He said he was present at the meeting to determine how the city commissioners felt about annexing the property into the city and zoning it for alcoholic beverage consumption on the premises.

"I'd like to see it continue as a bowling alley and I have no objection to the lounge," said Altman.

Altman. "Well, I'm gonna surprise you, cause I'd agree to it," said Commissioner George Goforth, Jr.
"The only thing I'd be concerned about is they (previous owners) had a habit of bringing carnivals in, and I hope you don't plan to fool around with those," said Commissioner Claude A. Tindall.

Commissioner Charles D. Goodlett said he would be in favor of the annexation and zoning if

Lack of manager shows

A little less than a year ago, the citizens of Pahokee rejected a change in the city charter which would have change de the municipal government from the present council form to a city manager form.

The council had already budgeted $20,000 for a city manager in case the voters agreed to the change and a manager had to be hared.

The rejection didn't legally prevent the council from hiring a manager or administrator, but it made it politically in-armediant.

Engineer Jim Sloane told the council that one of the reasons the costs of the city's water project went over budget and available funds was because the city had ty's water project went over budget and available funds was because the city had no manager, finance director or administrator who could keep an eye on the funds and costs of the project.

The project exceeded available funds by over $17.600. That is just one project, and it almost makes up the $20,000 budgeted by the council for the city manager's position.

If a city manager was hired and had kept close watch on the city finances throughout the year, perhaps he or she could have saved the city even more.

But no city manager was hired because the citizens decided one wasn't needed. That's their loss, because its their tax dollars they're wasting while services continue to be cut.

We urge the city council to consider hiring an administrator or city manager. Here is one case where the voters were wang, and disobeying their wishes could only help.

The state supreme court demanded that the Everglades Drainage District explain why, after being ordered to do so, it hadn't assessed residents for 1932 taxes.

The writ issued by the court was requested by two Escambia County men who held $25,000 of a 89 million outstanding bond issue.

The plaintiffs said the district had defaulted on part of the principal and all the interest on its bonds and no effort was being made to assess taxes.

The district was expected to explain in court the next week that the reason it had failed to levy 1932 taxes was because a suit in federal court had tidd up its operating funds.

The federal suit was filed by an Ohio man who was also a bondholder.

St. Edwards ate up the Crusader secondary in the first half, passing the ball with ease. At the

"Taking It From The Top"

by Dr. David T. Evans

Today the "Golden Rule" is out of date. It is the "dolf fashioned rule." Today it is important to be a survivor. Play it cool. Or what's in it for me. "Idon't have to take this!"

This philosophy has brought crime, divorce, death and unhappiness. The broken homes bodies and lives are a part of today's scene.

Many thinkers agree that the greatest problem of the twentieth century is the problem of relationships. It is not social, economic or political but our own personal relationships with people.

To the complex society of our own relationships so did fashinoed in the eighties of jets, laers, jeans and country musie?

Jesus continues "This is the essence of all true religion." It better be or we will never enjoy the pleasures of today.

The problem boils down to the fact that we are not able to take Jesus's aummary of the ten commandments seriously. "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul and with all your mark, and with all your soul and with all your mind." This is the first commandment and the second is like it, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself"; on these two commandments depend all the law and the prophets.

Jesus here says three things. Begin with the small love your negator as younger to the commandments depend all the law and the prophets.

Jesus here says three things. Begin with the love of God, love yourself honestly, and then you can love your neighbor.

The trouble is that we begin with self. For the most part our lives begin and end with ourselves. The key is to begin with God on the self. For the with our neighbor. It is only after we have looked into the face of God that we realize our need of His help.

As we have a close relationship with God we realize what rebels, violators, sinners we are. Only then do we come close to comprehending how bretched and foul we are.

As we begin to see our true value and the depth of our need, we are then able to see our neighbors and understand them.

Many people say "I want to get down to the simple goopel. I want to live by the Sermon on the Mount and the Golden Rule."

This is fine but we must begin with the accep-ance of God's love that is offered to us in Jesus farist. There is more to this than praise; it is liv-

Christ. There is more to be a mechanical performing it.

Living is not meant to be a mechanical performance but its the realization that the law of God is essentially spiritual and a part of our everyday lying. We must have the spirit of God in our hearts before we can live with our fellows.

Basically we begin with dislike of the law and the God who has given it to us. We think of God's law as something that prohibits us from enjoying life.

God's law is to protect us so that we can live and enjoy life. His law enables us to control our energies and use them in the right way. If we have the love of God in our hearts then we can live with others, because we have learned to understand ourselves. The first act is to turn to God and see Him in all His holines and greatness and creativity.

God and see rim in an iris nomes and greatness and creativity. As we look upon God we realize that He and He alone is worthy to be praised and worshipped. It is only as we see God in his greatness and ourselves totally in need of Him that we can have the right relationship with others who are in the same need.

The "Golden Rule" is not old fashioned but as new as tommorrow. It is as practical as the can opener and as necessary as the key to your car, but we must begin with God.

Boca Raton has already adopted the standards.

The guidelines would set minimum requirements for the construction and rehabilitation of housing in the areas under the jurisdiction of government agencies which adopt them.

Harvin said he hopes all the governments in Palm Beach County adopt the guidelines, creating a county-wide uniform code.

"In order to be totally effective, they have to be adopted by all government units," he said.

The order to be totally effective, they have to be adopted by all government units," he said.

Belle Glade currently has a code, but adoption of the coalition's guidelines by the city and other government agencies in the county, including housing authorities and the county government, would create a uniform code to be followed by all construction firms in Palm Beach County.

The proposed guidelines set minimum standards in all aspects of construction, including concrete mixing, floor construction, coofing and even the type of nails to be used in certain stages.

Harvin will be examining the guidelines as part of his effort to have them adopted by the city, he said.

Mayor Thomas L. Altman said the city commission will probably be discussing the guidelines at a future workshop meeting on legislative items.

"We're gonna have to have another series of workshops on our legislative agenda," said Altman. "We're gonna have to move full speed on that. And it (the guidelines and expected housing code revisions) will probably be the first thing we look at.

Altman said he has not seen the proposed guidelines and could not comment on them.

Glades General Opens Unit

BELLE GLADE-Glades General Hospital can now offers Glades residents coronary care com-patible with care offered in coastal hospitals. The hospital opened a new Critical Care Unit Friday and the unit is equipped with the newest and possibly the best equipment in the nation. Hospital Administrator Patrick Lennon and members of the Critical Care Unit staff gave members of the press a preview of the new unit

Friday morning.

The unit, located on the second floor of the hospital relaces a six-bed pediatrics unit unused since the opening of a pediatrics section on the hird floor.

Robbins said that while the monitor and the third floor.

Lennon said the hospital purchased a $143,000 package of equipment from Hewlitt-Packard which includes a computer that will analyze every heartbeat of every patient in the unit.

Senate supports sugar program

'The Senate voted Thursday, September 23, 1982 to continue supporting a sugar program designed to stabilize prices and supplies for both American consumers and the domestic sugar in-

American consumers and the domestic sugar industry.

By a two-to-one margin, the Senate voted to table the so-called Quayle-Tsongas amendment that would have reduced the loan level of 17 cents a pound for raw sugar to only 14 cents.

"The overwheiming 2-1 vote by the Senate, the third time in 12 months the Senate has voted 2-1 in favor of a domestic sugar industry, is a major victory for both sugar farmers and consumers, said Dalton Yancey, vice president and general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League. "If the amendment had passed, the cost to Florida farmers alone would have been $60 million. The effects en the entire domestic industry could have been devastating."

The Senate action came on a motion by Sen. Robert Dole (R-Kans.) to table the amendment proposed by Sens. J. Danforth Quayle (R-Ind.) and Paul Tsongas (D-Mass.). the Senate voted and Paul Isongas (D-Mass.). the Senate voted 60-31 to table. In voting to kill the amendment, Sen. Mark Andrews (B-N.). pointed out that "17 cents is a very modest price designed to keep the American sugar-producing industry going." Sen. that Baucus (D-Mont.) especially sugar-prices are sugar-producing industry going. Sen. that Baucus (D-Mont.) especially during Sen. that Baucus (D-Mont.) especially sugar-prices are rarely passed to consumers. "This amendment (Quayle-Tsongas) will not save U.S. consumers any money, "said Baucus. "It would lead to the demise of our domestic sugar industry."

The domestic sugar industry is composed of 16,000 farmers, over 100,000 sugar workers and a additional 250,000 persons whose jobs are directly affected by the industry.

Robbinns said that while the monitor and the computer equipment are in use at other hospitals, the software is the first to be installed in Florida, and as far as he know in the nation.

The new equipment can monitor patients who have suffered heart attacks and strokes and give such information as continuous flow charts, graphs, sobar graphs, and blood pressures checks.

To operate the equipment and on hand for the demonstration were Dr. Chandra Venugopal, the cardiologist who's the director of the unit, Dr. Jaimy Benaimon, another cardiologist, Dr. Roy Brown, hospital chief of staff, and Jane Birchesi, the Critical Care Unit nursing supervisor.

Dr. Venugopal said Glades General is no long in competition with West Palm Beach. "We're com-peting with Miami," he said.

Although the equipment was quite expensive or a hospital the size of Glades General, Dr. rown said he felt the hospital should have the set because of its distant from coastal hospitals.

Lennon said the unit will be manned 24 hours by a clerk and there will be one registered nurse for every two patients. When the unit is fully occupied, three nurses and clerk will man the unit, according to Lennon.

Lennon said the nurses and doctors who will staff the critical care unit have been attracted to Glades General through an intensive recuiting program.

Dr. Vengopal of New Jersey since his arrival at Glades General has already inplanted the Glades first temporary heart pace maker.

With the new unit, Dr. Brown said patients who have a heart attack won't have to be transported to the coast. "The first hour following a heart attack is the most critical," said Brown. "Now we can treat patients during that first crucial hour," he added.

Also on hand for the demonstration was Mrs. Sandra Chamblee, a member of the hospital board and a former board chairman.

Florida Sugar Cane Safety Conference, received a new award citing the association for its over-all safety record.

The conference, sponsored by the Florida Sugar Cane League was held Thursday, Sept. 23 at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center at Palm Beach Junior College-Glades Campus.

Atlanta Sugar received the "Best Overall Safety" award from Norm Schmidt of the state worker compensation bureau. Ernesto Priede accepted the award for the association.

U.S. Sugar Corp. received the annual safety award presented to the mill having the fewest accidents among cane cuttern over the past year.

U.S. Sugar Corp. Vice President in charge of Agricultura J.D. Statey and Safety Director Nick Smith accepted the award.

Alex Kane, a safety expert with the National Safety. Council in Chicago was the keynote speaker for the conference and spoke to approximately 200 representatives.

Kane spoke on the conference's theme "Loss Control Dollars Make Sense".

Kane spoke on the conference's theme "Loss Control Dollars Make Sense".

Control Dollars Make Sense".

Kane said that why many businessmen believe money spent on accidents is well spent, he believes it's money wasted.

He said experts have come to the conclusion that for every dollar of direct loss due to an accident, $3 is lost in hidden cost, all of which comes out of the profits.

Because of that, he said sugar companies would have to market and sell more than $17,000 worth of sugar and molasses to cover a $500 accident. Using a workbook passed out to all conference participants, Kane made his point, by having them define an accident, then carried them through a process to show how first-line supervisors can make more money by reducing number of accidents.

Chris Papanert, director of public relations the League said National Farm Safety Weeks Sept. 20 through 24 and the conference was to coincide with the national observance.

Dalton Yancey, Vice-President and Gen Manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League members of the Bafety Committee planned annual conference.

Members of the committee were H.T. Vaug Jr., of U.S. Sugar Corp. Nick Smith, U.S. Su Corp.; Chris Davison, Oscola Farms Compendarles Schiele, Sugar Cane Growers Cooperat of Florida; F.A. Iznags, Gulf and Western F. Products Co., and Ernesto Priede of Atlas Sugar Association.
